

Australian Nursing and
Midwifery Education Centre

Learning to care from leaders in health

THINKING ABOUT A CAREER IN HEALTH?

THE AUSTRALIAN NURSING
AND MIDWIFERY EDUCATION
CENTRE IS THE ANSWER
YOU'RE LOOKING FOR

RTO code 40064

The Australian Nursing and Midwifery Education Centre is a service of the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (SA Branch)

THINKING ABOUT A CAREER IN HEALTH, NURSING, AGED OR COMMUNITY CARE? LOOKING FOR A
JOB CHANGE OR TO ADVANCE YOUR CAREER? NEED QUALIFIED AGED OR HEALTH STAFF?

THE AUSTRALIAN NURSING AND
MIDWIFERY EDUCATION CENTRE
(ANMEC) IS

THE ANSWER
YOU ARE LOOKING FOR.

ABOUT US

A service of the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (SA Branch), ANMEC offers a variety of education options.

Most of the education and training is delivered at our purpose-built training facility, which has parking on-site and provides students with the latest in clinical training facilities and technology.

ANMEC complements the training with online learning and assessment which supports the classroom theory and clinical skills laboratory practice. We also ensure appropriate and supported workplace learning.

For employers, we also offer the convenience of on-site workforce training and professional development.

We have successfully trained students in courses at Certificate III level since 2004, Diploma level since 2005 and Advanced Diploma level since 2009 and were recognised as the SA Small Training Provider of the Year – 2010. We are a registered training organisation (RTO).

Choosing to work in nursing, health, aged and community care may be the best decision you will ever make. Fulfilling, challenging and rewarding, these jobs can take you anywhere in the world!

QUALIFICATIONS AND SHORT COURSES

ANMEC delivers nationally accredited courses spanning nursing, aged care, health and community services, ranging from Certificate III to Advanced Diploma level. All courses are delivered by professional staff with specialisations and contemporary industry knowledge and practice.

ANMEC also offers a wide range of Continuing Professional Development courses for those already working in the field, to help enhance, update or increase clinical knowledge.

At ANMEC, our courses will arm you with the latest knowledge and skills and are supported and recognised by nursing, aged, health and community care employers. So when you train with us, you know you're setting yourself up for a bright future.

For more information on ANMEC courses, please visit www.anmfsa.org.au/learning/courses

"I chose to study a Diploma of Nursing at ANMEC as I thought it would be a good way to see whether I liked nursing as a profession as I was coming from a different industry. I completed my Diploma course at ANMEC and pursued further study in my chosen field, Mental Health. The ANMEC educators knew I had an interest in mental health and helped foster this interest through my studies. The encouragement and support I received at ANMEC was great and I was happy I chose ANMEC".

Patricia Cain
Clinical Nurse, Ashton House

WHY STUDY AT ANMEC?

As a specialist health and community services education provider, ANMEC understands what skills and knowledge are required and customises training to ensure it meets those needs.

ANMEC offers:

- Learning based on current industry information and evidence based practice
- Our educators are health professionals or experienced in their relevant field with expert knowledge in specialties (eg. Aged Care or Acute Care)
- Friendly and respectful learning environment where your prior experience and knowledge are valued and acknowledged
- Excellent facilities including a modern, well-equipped skills laboratory that simulates relevant care environments
- Flexible learning options including learning on-site or at your workplace, tailored group learning, one-on-one tuition and distance education
- Exceptional support including a health care dedicated library
- Career Information Service to assist with making informed choices about your future
- Government-funded assistance available for many courses
- Handy metro location, on-site parking and close to public transport

WORKING WITH INDUSTRY

ANMEC is a specialist health and community services education provider that works closely with the sectors by:

- Contextualising learning and assessment to the workplace, clinical context and the current issues in industry
- Tailoring learning and assessment to maximise the capabilities of the organisation, staff and individuals
- Encouraging feedback continually through and after delivery of training and assessment
- A continuous improvement system involving extensive surveys from worksites and students that feeds into training delivery, assessment, quality assurance and work placement methods
- Educators still working in industry or are strongly connected to maintain skills and knowledge
- Clinical Facilitators working with placement site staff to support you getting the most from work placements

Simone Parker
Enrolled Nurse, Ashford Hospital

“The Diploma of Nursing course improved my time management and communication skills. My employer and work placement employer both commented that my training was of a very high standard. The teachers had a wealth of knowledge and I received great support whilst studying”.

Australian Nursing and Midwifery Education Centre
Student
1995
DOB 17/04/1983
Diploma of Nursing (N/Dip N) HLT51412
23/08/2014
29/10/2015
Kaitlyn
James

Australian
Midwifery
(SA B)
Nurses at you couldn't b

OUR TEAM

All of ANMEC's experienced and qualified educators are registered nurses (AHPRA registered) who have undertaken further education and are committed to providing the very best training and education possible.

Education staff are committed to continuing their professional development and each year undertake education to ensure their knowledge and teaching practices are contemporary.

FUNDING

ANMEC consistently accesses Federal and State funding available to support students and training.

ANMEC ensures applicants are informed of funding options and entitlements such as: VET FEE Help, Centrelink (Austudy, Youth Allowance, Abstudy) and/or the Aged Care

Education and Training Incentive (ACETI) which offers incentive payments to eligible care workers who study towards enhancing their career as a personal care worker or enrolled or registered nurse.

For further information, please visit www.anmfsa.org.au/learning/funding

SUPPORT SERVICES (LIBRARY)

The ANMF (SA Branch) Library offers a great selection of resources to support ANMEC students study. All library services are available to ANMEC students.

Onsite services include:

- Computer use/internet access
- Guidance with literature searches
- Advice on literacy/study preparation skills
- Resources focussing on aged, health, nursing and midwifery practice, nursing education and general wellbeing

Online services include:

- Enquiry form
- Catalogue
- Journal databases
- Library resource guides (libguides)
- Nursing/medical streamed DVD's
- Online services are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week

TRAINING IN THE WORKPLACE

ANMEC offers on-site staff training for all types of health and aged care workplaces by tailoring learning and assessment to maximise the capabilities of individuals, staff and the organisation.

Using a workforce capability review process, ANMEC can assist the worksite to:

- Review job capability functions
- Analyse and measure the job capability status
- Determine the order of priority with job functions

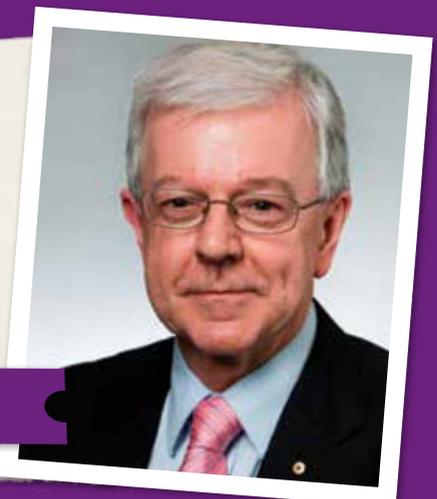

- Design a learning program to meet workforce needs

Our educators can also come to the workplace to provide staff education and training as part of our Continuing Professional Development Program.

Workplace training with ANMEC offers you industry leading education with the flexibility of where, when and how your staff are trained.

“Helping Hand has chosen to partner with ANMEC because of their reputation as a quality RTO. We believe our partnership will deliver excellent outcomes as the quality of training integrated with the workplace and supported by work placements will transition workers into secure employment”.

Ian Hardy, Chief Executive
Helping Hand

CONTACT US

For further information on any of the courses or information included in this brochure, please contact us on 08 8334 1900 or email training@anmfsa.org.au

Australian Nursing and Midwifery
Education Centre

191 Torrens Road
Ridleyton SA 5008

Email: training@anmfsa.org.au

Web: www.anmfsa.org.au/learning

Fax: 08 8346 2093

Australian Nursing and
Midwifery Education Centre

Learning to care from leaders in health